Estimate $ 200-300

Description

Woodford Reserve "Very Fine Rare" Series No. 16

Distillery Bottled, Limited Release

750 ml / Kentucky, USA / 45.2% ABV

"Nose: Unsurprisingly, heavy aged oak scents are the first thing to greet your nostrils. There is no doubt that this smells like an old bourbon. Notes of light oak spice, chocolate pudding and marshmallow fluff keep things rich and interesting while a small amount of almond brittle demonstrates the sweet side of this dram.

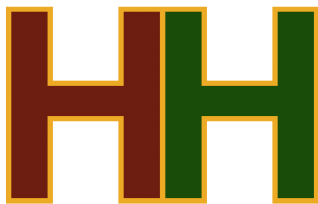

Palate: Dark toffee, toasted vanilla and heavy wood that leans towards being slightly dry all greet your tongue with each sip. That mesmerizing Old Forester/Woodford Reserve note of furniture polish is also out in droves. There is a slight passing note of citrus, prunes and figs that is sandwiched between the heavy oak notes and a pinch of wet tobacco.

Finish: Oak and tobacco dominate while a light amount of Demerara sugar adds the bare minimum of sweetness. There is a little bit of spice, but not enough to be distracting.

The finish leans heavily on the tannins but never feels over-oaked. Instead the whole finish can be summed up by saying it was rich and satisfying." - The Bourbon Culture
